

SUMMER AT AN END.

THE CITY RAPIDLY FILLING UP
WITH RETURNING PEOPLE.

Washington's Social Throng Leave the Mountains, the Valley, and the Seashore for the Comforts of Home—The Season Here Will Soon Begin.

The most important event at the Presidential cottage during the week was the arrival of Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Russell Harrison from their European trip, of the delights of which they are exceedingly enthusiastic. Mrs. Russell Harrison will go Westward almost immediately.

Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Morton have been announced as the guests during August of Mr. Bliss, at Saratoga, Mrs. Morton only arrived from Europe during the past week. Her daughter, Miss Edith, came with her.

Secretary Blaine and Miss Hattie Blaine attended the reception given recently by Admiral Walker, on board the Chicago, at Bar Harbor.

Mrs. Wanamaker and the Misses Wanamaker are expected home in October.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Assembly Presbyterian Church upon the occasion of the marriage of Miss Margaret G. Campbell, of Mt. Pleasant, to Mr. Willard E. Buell, of the office of the Comptroller of the Currency. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and cut flowers, the work having been a labor of love by the young friends of the bride and groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. N. Campbell, of Ohio, assisted by the pastor, the Rev. O. H. Small. The ushers, Messrs. Edward Campbell, Geo. E. Fleming, C. C. Goodwin, Frank Fletcher, Max Clement, and James Spear, entered the church in advance of the bridesmaids, Miss Mamie Pollock, of Pennsylvania; Miss Hattie Safford and Miss Ella Burrows, of New York; and Miss Cora Bean, of this city. The bride entered on the arm of her father and was met at the altar by the groom, with his brother Herbert as best man. The bride looked exceptionally pretty in a gown of white crepe de chine, demit-train, edged with chiffon, with Marguerite garniture, tulle veil fastened with Marguerites, and carrying a bouquet of bridal roses. Two of the bridesmaids wore gowns of Nile green China silks with white crepe de chine, carrying La France roses. The other two wore gowns of canary China silks, with white fedoras, carrying Puritan roses. The maid of honor, Miss Jennie Campbell, aunt of the bride, wore a gown of gold striped gauze, carrying Mareschal Niel roses. Mr. and Mrs. Buell left on the 11 o'clock train for Montreal and the Thousand Islands. Upon their return they will reside at their own home at Mt. Pleasant. The presents were numerous and elegant, among them being an antique oak writing desk and book case, combined, from the groom's associates in office; a silver tea service from the Cazenovia Club, and a set of dining-room furniture from Mr. Herbert Buell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoermann, of 1006 Pennsylvania avenue, celebrated the silver anniversary of their wedding last Sunday night, when they entertained their friends at a beautiful party. Mrs. Hoermann received her guests attired in a handsome dress of cream-colored silk. The rooms were charmingly decorated with flowers. A delicious supper was served. Among the guests were Mrs. G. R. Baier, in black silk and diamond ornaments; Mrs. Fisher, black satin; Miss Baier, black lace; the Misses Rose and Edna Baier, in white gauze; Mrs. H. F. Reh, black silk and diamonds; Miss Sophie Reh, Nile green China silk; Miss Odekoven, blue silk, and Mrs. Phillips, black grenadine.

Oliver Belt, Washington, D. C.

Miss Mary Cake, daughter of Mr. J. F. Cake, of Congress Hall, Cape May, was the recipient of a very beautiful china bon-boniere filled with fine confections on the occasion of her birthday, which occurred in August. The donor was Madame Suarez-Guarez, wife of the Spanish Minister, who with her family has passed the summer at Cape May. The two secretaries of the Spanish Legation, who have also spent the season at Congress Hall, sent Miss Cake baskets of flowers in birthday congratulations.

NO LONGER LITERARY LADIES.

They Sensibly Resolve to Call Themselves Writing Women.

London Letter.

Talking of ladies, reminds me that at the literary ladies' dinner, which took place at the Criterion on the 25th, the title "Literary Ladies" was strongly objected to by the majority of those present, and so for the future they are to be known as "Writing Women," which instantly prompted a male wag to say that "writing women were wronging men," which was more smart than true. There was quite a large gathering of lady journalists—I mean women journalists—and authoresses, including Mr. Louise Chandler Moulton, Mrs. Pennell, Mrs. Meade (who was the president), Mrs. Frank Leslie, Mrs. Mona Caird, Mrs. Humphreys, Miss Alice Corkran, Miss Graham Thompson (the charming poetess), Miss Everette Lawrence (the literary actress), and Mrs. Crawford. Many were the speeches, and Mrs. Chandler Moulton was "glad to see that women could appear to be enjoying themselves so thoroughly, could look so pretty, and be so prettily dressed at a gathering that included no member of the masculine sex." The menu was excellent, and the champagne was appropriately sweet. A box of cigarettes was sent by a well-known publisher, but only three ladies availed themselves of the privilege to indulge in the soothing weed.

The Home-Made Hat a Failure.

Evening World.

Of all the failures nowadays a home-made hat seems to be the most complete. It is so easy to tell how a hat is trimmed and equally as difficult to succeed in making a presentable copy of the original. Many learn to make their own gown, but to very few is it given to stylishly trim a hat or bonnet.
